I extend my heartfelt congratulations to Amalorpavam Higher Secondary School and their organisers on the momentous occasion of its Ruby Jubilee Celebrations. I am told that this institution is working for the last more than forty years and has carved a niche for itself in the realm of education, exemplifying unwavering dedication to academic excellence, moral values and holistic development.

The remarkable journey of Amalorpavam Higher Secondary School, under the visionary leadership of its founder, Mr. S.A. Lourdasamy, stands as a testament to the transformative power of education. The School's commitment to nurturing young minds and empowering them with the knowledge and skills to thrive in an ever-changing world is truly commendable.

It was my sincere wish to attend this auspicious function but I could not attend due to unavoidable important official meetings in Delhi.

I take this opportunity to convey my best wishes to all the Members of the Amalorpavam Higher Secondary School for their future endeavours for effective teaching strategies along with a focus on the especially abled students.
